THE GENUINE
Dr. C. McLANE'S

ACUTE AND FEVER.
No better cathartic can be used preparatory to, or after taking quinine.

BEWARE OF IMITATIONS.

GEN. HANCOCK AND THE PLATFORM.

There is really more in the uncomfortable position which the Cincinnati platform has placed the Cincinnati candidate in than people seem inclined to believe. In fact, it is an extremely uncomfortable one, and there is but one loophole of escape for the portly, handsome general. Of all the evidences of "sherry and champagne," proverbially favorite beverages of the author of the platform, there are none so plain as the articles of that document to which we refer, and there are none which so openly indicate that the platform committee met in the dark, talked in the dark and resolved in the dark. Sections 6, 7 and 8 of that far renowned paper charge specifically that President Hayes was an accessory after the fact, to conspiracy, bribery, false counting of votes, and corruption, by means of which he now holds his office. This was bad enough, but as if in very wantonness of cruelty the committee further declare, in sec. 8, that he is guilty of a statutory crime, that of personal bribery.

Gen. Hancock has already verbally declared his acceptance of the nomination upon this platform. In a few days, for it is eminently customary, he must signify in writing his acceptance. This document must contain, among other things, an endorsement of the party creed and among others sections 6th, 7th and 8th. Now, President Hayes is commander-in-chief of the army and navy, and consequently Gen. Hancock's superior and commanding officer. If Hancock should endorse these personal assaults on Mr. Hayes, he would, at the same time, commit not only an ungentlemanly act, viewed from the standpoint of the service, but he would also be guilty of a grave breach of military discipline.

Although he is senior major-general and a pumpkin of much magnitude in his sphere, he owes obedience to the articles of war not less than if he was the smallest drummer-boy in the whole United States skeleton—we meant army—and section 5th of that voluminous array of articles declares that if any officer speaks in disrespectful or abusive language of the president he must, imperative, remember, be court-martialed. The 83rd section provides that if any officer shall be convicted of "language unbecoming a soldier or gentleman," he shall be dismissed the service.

From these facts it may be observed the dimensions of the box in which the "handsomest man in the army" is at present confined. He can't endorse the platform without being court-martialed and he can't run without endorsing it. He can resign, but if he does, when he is beaten, he won't have a soft place to fall back on. We await his action with some degree of curiosity.

REBELLION.

If the news that comes from the Indian territory be true, and each story clearly corroborates the preceding one, the duty of the government should be plain before it. The armed invasion of any state or territory contrary to the laws of the United States is nothing but treason and open rebellion, and with this crime there is but one way to deal and the arguments against it are to be found in the muzzles of the soldiers' muskets and at the point of their bayonets.

If there is any class of residents of this country who deserve its protection it is the Indians. The honor of the government is pledged them by most solemn treaties and the repeated injuries these unfortunates have received should be only incentives to more powerful protection in the future.

The case in point we suppose is well understood. The reservations in that territory have been given over to the broken tribes who once were powerful but now broken. It is their private property as much as the freehold of any citizen in the United States. Nay, it is more; for in transferring them the government surrendered many of those rights of eminent domain which are binding on other property. For a long time railroad speculators, nomadic squatters and much of the scum of the frontiers have been casting envious eyes upon the territory. Foiled in their attempts to gain a footing there peacefully, they have, under the command of a Capt. Payne, enlisted quite a formidable band, and now, armed to the teeth, they propose to set at naught the power and authority of the national government, and, with the foolhardiness and audacity of such adventurers, have set up a banner of rebellion against the United States.

As we have already stated there is but one way to meet such conduct and that is by the opposition of force to force. The administration should, and we doubt not will, mass in that territory sufficient forces to crush at once, speedily and effectually, the revolt. The full power of the government should be called into play and no symptoms of dalliance should be witnessed. The people of this country are not willing to see the old flag, the emblem of their freedom disgraced by the armed opposition of such a mob as that which composes the band under the command of Capt. Payne, and will call in unmistakable terms for the punishment they merit.

KIDNEY PAD.
A STRONGLY ENDORSED. REV. E. F. LAUGHLIN, Galena, Ill., writes—"For over ten years I have been a great sufferer from pain in the small of the back and region of the kidneys which was most excruciating and at times almost insupportable. Doctoring brought no relief, and I was finally advised to go abroad and seek the climate of my youth. In Germany and Switzerland, eminent physicians, after close examinations, declared my sufferings to arise from disease of the kidneys of long standing and could do no good. I was however benefited by the climate and consequently returned. No sooner had I been back and began my pastoral work when the old trouble grew again so intense as to make life a burden. A few months ago I came into possession of one of Perry's Kidney Pads, put it on, and the effects were truly wonderful. The pain was gone, and I am now, after wearing the second Pad, entirely cured, and there can be no doubt but that I am entirely cured. I will write this some weeks after the use of it, as I am strong and look again the very picture of health. I write this with truth and gratitude. Indeed, I consider the Perry Kidney Pad God's good gift and great benefactor of mankind. May all the suffering be helped as I have been by my earnest wish."

MRS. R. L. SPURGE, SYRACUSE, N.Y.—The doctors had given my mother up with what they called Bright's Disease. She is now wearing DAVIS' Pad, gaining strength, and improving every day.

CASPER WETZEL, Policeman, Lancaster, Pa.—"I have been a great sufferer from Kidney complaint and after wearing your Pad 25 days I feel better than I have for 15 years."

Dr. A. J. STONER, Doctor, Ills.—"Your Pad is doing great good here. It sells every day and gives universal satisfaction."

For sale by druggists, or sent by mail (free of postage) on receipt of the price—Regular Pad, $2.00; Special Pad, $2.50. Children's, $1.00.
